

LECTURER
DEPARTMENT OF STATISTICS
UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, RIVERSIDE

The Department of Statistics at the University of California, Riverside (UCR) invites applications for a one-year full-time lecturer position, depending upon funding and with the possibility of reappointment, for the 2009-10 academic year. A Ph.D. in Statistics or Biostatistics is desirable with the minimum requirement as MS in Statistics or Biostatistics. The applicant must have a high quality teaching record with a strong teaching commitment.

The Department of Statistics offers both BA and BS degrees in Statistics, an MS degree in Statistics, and a Ph.D. degree in Applied Statistics. The Department has an active Statistical Consulting Collaboratory. The Department website is <http://statistics.ucr.edu>.

Please send your application with your vitae and evidence of high quality teaching commitment to:

Professor Dan Jeske
Department of Statistics
Room 2626 Statistics-Computer Building
University of California
900 University Avenue
Riverside, CA 92521-0138, USA

The applicants should arrange for three letters of recommendation to be sent to Professor Jeske. Until the file is complete with the requested information, the application can not be given full consideration. Review of applications will begin by June 1st 2009 and will continue until position is successfully filled.

The University of California is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer.
