

- Teaching Statement

The Department goals for teaching load are as follows: AES faculty members generally teach 3 regular courses per year. Non-AES faculty members generally teach 4 regular courses per year. LPSOE faculty members generally teach 6 regular courses per year. One course reduction is available to Department Chair, Department Vice Chair, Graduate Advisor and Director of the Statistical Consulting Collaboratory. The potential always exists for extenuating circumstances to cause fluctuations around these goals in any given year, but the Department consciously tries to manage teaching assignments toward achieving these goals in the long run.
